Anna Hoffman

PRINCIPAL / LANDSCAPE ARCHITECT

Shaped by a classic liberal arts education and influenced by working and traveling around the world, Anna Hoffman connects art, architectural design and the fine details of luxury to create sophisticated spaces of inspiration for residential and hospitality clients worldwide.

From designing private residential estates in California and Texas to international luxury resorts for the Mandarin Oriental, Ritz Carlton and J.W. Marriott, she has led hundreds of projects from concept and design to completion across the United States and Hawaii, and spanning more than 12 countries.

Prior to founding Hoffman & Ospina, Anna honed her craft working in the San Francisco, Los Angeles and London offices of several of the world's leading landscape architecture firms, where she worked on presidential homes, royal palaces, private islands, and residential compounds.

Her work has been recognized with the "Best Urban Garden" award in Veranda magazine's 2021 Best in Outdoor Living; a 2021 Award of Merit from the Southern California chapter of the American Society of Landscape Architects (ASLA); the Luxe Award for Best Los Angeles Landscape; and the Best New Design Product Award by California Home & Design.
