Danay Korsheh

SALES COORDINATOR

With an eye for art and experience in retail operations, Danay Korsheh leads Hoffman & Ospina's Sourcing department. In this role, she sources one-of-a-kind accessories, antiques and handcrafted objets d'art from artisans around the world—all to put fine finishing touches on every client's design project.

From her experiences living in both New York City and Los Angeles and from traveling the world, Danay has developed a discerning eye for art and fine craftsmanship.

Prior to joining the firm, Danay managed a vintage and contemporary boutique and was the creator and curator of the Good Times Trading Post, a specialty retail experience bringing together over 40 small retailers and hundreds of shoppers.

She also held an internship in Los Angeles for a fashion house, where she honed her skills in styling and photography.

When not working, Danay can be found tending to her many plants, a skill and tradition she proudly inherited from her grandmother.
